

SUBMISSION FORM

South Australian Heritage Council

Submission on whether the entry of Shed 26, Semaphore Road, New Port should be confirmed in the South Australian Heritage Register

The South Australian Heritage Council can only take into account heritage significance of a place as defined by the Heritage Places Act 1993 (Act) when considering places for entry on the South Australian Heritage Register. Using the table below, please provide evidence or information to explain why you believe the place does or does not meet the criteria under the Act.

Criteria

| Criteria under the Heritage Places Act 1993 , section 16(1) | Provide evidence or other information why you believe criteria applies or does not apply to this place |
|--|--|
| (a) it demonstrates important aspects of the evolution or pattern of the State's history | From the perspective of white settlement, Australia is a young country. Decisions made today will have ramifications into the future with regard to what aspects of our history are preserved. Port Adelaide is an important part of South Australia's foundation story. The buildings that are preserved now will help future generations better understand how the Port functioned and how ordinary people contributed to the State as it grew. Shed 26 has a striking vantage point on the Port. It is especially important because it sits along from the Newport development that was such a disappointment to the locals of the Port and the Peninsula. To lose Shed 26 would be to lose an opportunity to preserve a prominent feature of the Port and use the building for multiple purposes that can enhance the overall built environment now as well as be a link to history. This preservation could have benefits to the people who buy into the new development as well – adding substantially to the interest of the area and reducing the potential for the development to be more soulless and boring |

| | It is also important to look at interstate and overseas where there are numerous examples of buildings of historic significance incorporated into modern redevelopment with related positive impact on economic activities including tourism. Australia should seriously consider every opportunity to blend the old with the new and preserving Shed 26 is such an opportunity. It may not be part of the Heritage Council's primary purpose but it is worth noting that adaptive re-use has been successfully accomplished in many places. The web site below provides many examples. https://www.thoughtco.com/adaptive-reuse-repurposing-old-buildings-178242 |
| (b) it has rare, uncommon or endangered qualities that are of cultural significance | |
| (c) it may yield information that will contribute to an understanding of the State's history, including its natural history | |
| (d) it is an outstanding representative of a particular class of places of cultural significance | |
